

Workshop on Students' welfare schemes

In this seminar Piku Das Gupta spoke about the various Student Welfare Schemes in West Bengal. These schemes are provided to students for continuing their education and for becoming economically independent. The various schemes on which she spoke to the students were:

1.Sabooj Sathi :This

Scheme aims to empower students by providing them with bicycles. This initiative helps students, especially those from disadvantaged backgrounds, commute to and from school. By promoting education and accessibility, the scheme contributes to overall student welfare.

2Kanyashree Prakalpa:

This scheme launched in 2013, focuses on improving the status and well-being of girls aged 13 to 18 from socio-economically disadvantaged families. It provides financial assistance and encourages girls' education, thereby enhancing their overall welfare.

3.Yuvasree Unemployment Allowance Scheme: Provides financial assistance to unemployed youth.

4.Rupashree Prakalpa Scheme: Aids economically backward families during marriage.

5.Swami Vivekananda Merit cum Means Scholarship Scheme: Supports meritorious students.

Student Credits Card Facilitate for easy educational loans for students.

Aikyashree Scheme:which Offers scholarships to minority students.

Karma Sathi Prakalpa Scheme: Provides loans for self-employment.

Sikshashree Scheme: Assists Scheduled Tribe students.

She emphasised on how these schemes collectively contribute to the holistic development and well-being of students across West Bengal. By addressing various needs, these initiatives play a crucial role in shaping a brighter future for the youth.

After the session students were also guided about the Govt. website for detailed information

The following list of students of 5th semester presented their power point presentation on the topics mentioned below.

1. Payel Dolai – “God Particle”
2. Shreyashi Pattnayek – “Crystal Structure”
3. Karuna Jana – “The Theory of Relativity”

Discussion :

After each presentation there was a 10 minutes discussion session between the teachers and students. It was a mainly Q&A based discussion. A general discussion session was held at the very end of the presentation session. Teachers gave valuable inputs on how to create attractive presentation using power point.

Conclusion :

The seminar was a grand success. It provided a sturdy platform to the students to showcase their ability of presentation skill and public speaking. The seminar also gave them a strong understanding of the subject. They got positive feedback and valuable suggestions from the teachers and from the other students. The seminar not only highlighted the prowess of the students but also fostered a culture of inquiry within the college.
